

Libre art

Libre art – or: librart in short - is a new term, born in end of 2014, 2015, particularly developed by libre artist, librartists.

Tartalomjegyzék

From Libre culture.....	1
Libre art.....	1
The culture of Libre Art.....	1

From Libre culture

The term Libre art is derived from Libre culture which came from FLOSS.

Also strong roots of the term Libre art came from Licence Art Libre and Copyleft.

Spain organized the BCCN and CCMad festivals. In early october of 2014 a presentation of CopyCamp ("Libre culture") also emphasized the significance of the term of the libre art. In november the Association of LILA, Paris published their Libre Calendar.

Libre art

In february, 2016, Hungarian: "Szabad művészet" article created in Wikipedia, then Libre art category aggregation in the Commons:

https://commons.wikimedia.org/wiki/Category:Libre_art

Many artists on the world talked about the Libre art, e. g. Bassam Kurdali one of the Libre film directors of the world – Elephant's Dream, Tube etc.

Thereafter Kim Tucker the scientist and WikEducator Ambassador has also created the English article.

The motto: Some Rights ReVersed (S R V) shows the significance of the "Libre culture/Libre art".

The culture of Libre Art

Libre Art means a strong connection with Artists and Society in a Libre – Open – Cultural ArtSpace.

There are more libre Cultural / Artspace in the world.

Gutenberg project

Wikimedia Commons

are all amongst them.